The Student Volunteer Movement Bulletin

FOR a number of years the Student Volunteer Movement combined with the other Student Christian Movements of North America in publishing the North American Student as their official magazine. This arrangement continued until the North American Student ceased publication. Since that time the Student Volunteer Movement has not had a regular periodical of its own.

For several years the Movement has issued a Bulletin each January, mainly to present a summary of the calls for workers of the Missionary Societies.

The Executive Committee has decided to publish the Bulletin four times a year, making it the official magazine of the Movement.

First Issue is to Appear in March 1920

---

Why This Periodical?

- To keep Volunteers in touch with one another and with headquarters.
- To aid Volunteers in their preparation for the mission field.
- To report meetings of the Student Volunteer Council.
- To report Student Volunteer Conferences.
- To suggest effective methods and timely materials for missionary work in colleges.
- To announce plans and publications in the field of missionary education.
- To report striking achievements in the missionary activities of colleges, universities and seminaries.
- To review books and magazine articles of special interest to Volunteers.
- To publish news concerning sailed Student Volunteers.
- To record news items pertaining to Student Volunteer Movements in other lands.
- To present the calls for workers of the Mission Boards.
- To present specially prepared articles by missionary leaders at home and abroad.

Who Will Need It?

All Student Volunteers. It is their trade journal.

Volunteers in college.

Volunteers out of college whose preparation is not completed.

THE STUDENTS' OPPORTUNITY IN WORLD RECONSTRUCTION

ROBERT P. WILDER, GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE STUDENT VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS

The word opportunity is derived from two Latin words meaning "at the gate." Belgium, Servia and Armenia were at our gate when in 1917 we went to their relief. They and their allies thought we of the United States were slow to respond to their need, but when we responded it was without reserve. Two million American men crossed the seas, two million more were preparing to go while American women did their part in sacrifice and service. Canada's contribution was much greater proportionately.

The war is over, as far as the actual fighting is concerned; but it is followed by the perils of unsettled peace and unsatisfied ambitions. The problems of labor unrest at home and abroad are at our gates. How are we to meet them? Statesmen and financiers, as well as church leaders, appreciate the seriousness of the situation. Roger W. Babson voices the thoughts of many men of business when he says:

The need of the hour is not more legislation. The need of the hour is more religion. . . . It is one thing to talk about plans and policies; but a plan and policy without a religious motive is like a watch without a spring, or a body without the breath of life. The trouble today is that we are trying to hatch chickens from sterile eggs. . . . The solving of the labor situation is wholly a question of religion. The wage worker will never be satisfied with higher wages and shorter hours, any more than you and I are satisfied with more profits and a bigger house. Things never did satisfy anyone and never will. Satisfaction and contentment are matters of religion. Communities and industries where right motives are paramount have no serious labor problems.

Similarly an Englishman in "The Proclamation" has well said:

Today there is only one way out of all our distress—it is to turn back to Jesus, to learn again His message and to let God rule. There is no other hope.

What is true of America and England is true of all other lands. Count Okuma of Japan well said:

No practical solution of many pressing problems is in sight apart from Christianity.

It is only where Christ is known, loved and obeyed that settled peace is possible between classes, communities and nations. In the words of Dr. Marcus Dods:

To understand aright the relation of the earth to the moon we must first understand the relation of both the earth and the moon to the sun.

Men will never be merciful and just to their fellow men unless they first understand and recognize their obligation to God.

In this Bulletin are presented the calls of the various churches in Canada and the United States for qualified men and women to assist in the work of world reconstruction. The reason for giving in this article prominence to the opportunities for Christian service in foreign lands is not because it is thought that such service requires a higher type of heroism than Christian service at home requires. There are some places in the midst of the congested population of North American cities and out on our Western frontiers where more sacrifice may be demanded of the laborer than on some foreign mission fields.

Neither are the needs of the non-Christian world emphasized in this Bulletin because those who labor there are supposed to have attained to a higher state of spirituality than those who labor in Canada and the United

STUDENTS' OPPORTUNITY IN WORLD RECONSTRUCTION

States. A city pastor or rural missionary on this continent needs the guidance and power of God's spirit as much as a foreign missionary in Asia or Africa.

Again, the urgency of the need abroad rests not only upon the greater numbers to be reached there. Of course, the numerical argument is as valid there as in the home lands where proper consideration is given to the comparative needs of fields from the point of view of their population; e. g., a vacant pulpit in an American town of 1,500 inhabitants, with three churches ministering to them, would not ordinarily appeal as strongly to a pastor as a vacant pulpit in a city of 15,000 inhabitants, with only three churches.

Moreover, men and women in our colleges are urged to consider the opportunities for service abroad not merely on the ground of philanthropy. To heal the bodies, enlighten the minds and improve the environment of the millions in the non-Christian world, constitute a great privilege as well as obligation. Medical, educational and industrial work are not merely means to an end. They are in themselves worthy ends. But in presenting the openings for medical, educational and industrial missionary work abroad, much more is desired than what is usually meant by philanthropy.

Again, students are urged to seize these opportunities for service abroad not merely because by so doing they can assist the work of social reconstruction on a world scale and can furnish guarantees for a League of Nations by improving international relations and promoting world peace.

There are two main reasons why the opportunities for foreign service listed in this Bulletin should appeal to Christian students and gain their hearty response:

I. The spiritual destitution of the people in the non-Christian nations who do not have within reach the remedy which Christianity provides. I lived in India in a district containing 1,191 towns and villages, of which number 1,169 had no resident Christian, native or foreign, within them. There are many places in the non-Christian world where Jesus is not even known and where no messengers of Christ are laboring.

Consider the spiritual needs of students in Mohammedan lands, where the God of Islam "spares the sins the Arab loves," or of students far east of Suez, "Where," as Kipling wrote,

The best is like the worst,
Where there ain't no ten commandments
And a man can raise a thirst.

Have you thought of the spiritual destitution of the average Hindu student in India? As a boy he was a polytheist because the women of the household worshiped idols. When he entered the high school he became a pantheist, following Ramkrishna's dictum: "In the absolute there is no thou, nor I, nor God;" hence there is no sin in the sense of moral defilement, for moral responsibility does not exist, for none is separate from God. What ethical basis has such a boy in his fight for character? When he entered college he was introduced to monotheism. Shall he add this to his polytheistic and pantheistic conceptions, or are they all wrong? If there be one personal God what is He like? Is He a sultan like the Allah of the Mohammedans, or is He a father? These are some of the questions Indian students have asked me: "Is there any necessary creator and is He personal?" "Can we not be moral without God?" "Is man a free moral agent?" "Did God make man, or did man make God?" "Should we believe or think?" How can he believe in popular Hinduism and yet continue to think along the lines of

STUDENTS' OPPORTUNITY IN WORLD RECONSTRUCTION

Western science? If the Hindu student meets an advocate of Christianity, the question will arise in his mind as to whether Jesus is only a great teacher like India's great teachers, or is He more; if so, how much more is He? In the bazars he finds European and American infidel literature as well as Indian anti-Christian books and pamphlets. Let us remember that he lives in an atmosphere where Christian ideals are not prevalent and Christian ethics are not operative and he has not behind him generations of Christian ancestors.

The spiritual darkness deepens as we turn from the educated classes to the illiterate masses. Nine-tenths of the population of India are in villages. Most of these are polytheists and polydemonists. As a boy in India I knew of Hindus who hesitated to leave their homes at night because a well near by was regarded as the abode of a demon. Millions in Asia and Africa are all their lifetime subject to bondage through fear of evil spirits. They live in an atmosphere that is full of superstition and does not make for righteousness. They know not of Christ and hence can not summon Him to their help. They have not within reach the fellowship of the Christian Church and the stimulus of a Christian press.

When Jesus came into the world to proclaim liberty to the captives of sin and superstition, Hinduism, Confucianism and Buddhism were not only in existence, but they were purer than they are at present. If Asia needed Christ then, it needs Him even more now.

II. The second reason why the opportunities for foreign service listed in this Bulletin should appeal to Christian students is because Christ, with His superhuman understanding of the fundamental needs of men laid on His disciples the responsibility to carry His message of victory over sin "into all the world." He desires that men may through Him have life and life abundant. He Who is our Light longs to be the Light of the world. How can He be this light while more than half the population of the world know nothing about Him? Is it not true that there are millions living today in non-Christian lands whose only hope of hearing of Jesus is in hearing of Him through the lips of Canadian and American students now living? Is not Paul's question therefore a pertinent one for us? "How can they hear without a preacher? And how can they preach except they be sent?" If these millions are not only to hear but also to experience Christ, must they not first see Him in the lives of missionaries who have themselves experienced Him?

The spiritual qualifications for the work of a foreign missionary are those which should mark the life of any Christian. A personal acquaintance with Jesus Christ and the ability to introduce others to Him are fundamental essentials. In order to make Him real to others He must be real to the missionary himself. In order to exalt His cross the missionary must have Christ's sacrificial spirit in his own life. This will necessitate daily fellowship with Christ through reverent study of the sacred Scriptures and through prayer. Such fellowship will prevent formalism, professionalism, indolence, discouragement, self-seeking and self-satisfaction. It will result in a continuous sense of vocation, a spirit of true humility and a constant inflow of wisdom and power from the Source of wisdom and power. It will also mean an appreciation of and love for men, since Christ loved men. The history of missions shows that ordinary men when linked up with the great Christ have done extraordinarily successful work. Who will join the ranks? Who will seize these opportunities at our gates?

In General Smuts' farewell message on leaving England for South Africa are these striking words:

We are at the beginning of a new century. The old world is dying around us; let it also die in us. Once more in the history of the human race we hear the great creative Spirit utter those tremendous words: "Behold, I make all things new."

. . . . The furnace through which we have passed has melted the hard crust of our life, and the old fixities and certainties are fluid once more. Let us work for a better, happier world to arise from this fluid mass.

Move to the Fore!
Say not another is fitter than thou.
Shame to thy shrinking; up, face thy task now.
Own thyself equal to all a soul may,
Cease thy evading, God needs thee today.
Move to the Fore!

CHRISTIAN AND MISSIONARY ALLIANCE

Christian and Missionary Alliance

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. Robert H. Glover, M.D.,
690 Eighth Avenue, New York City

This Society has missionary work in Palestine, India, China, Tibet, French Indo-China, Japan, Philippine Islands, Belgian Congo, Portuguese Congo, Sierra Leone, French Guinea, Argentine Republic, Chile, Ecuador, Porto Rico and Jamaica.

Its aim is to reach the most distant and destitute fields and especially regions still wholly unoccupied by missionary forces, with the end in view of speeding the evangelization of the whole world.

Its work consists of aggressive and wide-spread evangelism by every possible means. Emphasis is laid upon the training of native workers and the enlisting of the native churches in every field toward this object.

The Society now has a staff of over 300 American missionaries, and between 600 and 700 native workers. Through God's abundant grace the past four years of the world war have brought no serious interruption in any of the fields occupied by this Society excepting Palestine, and the work of that field is being fully reopened with an increased staff of workers.

Several important advances into new territory have been made, notably in French Guinea, French Indo-China, Northeastern Tibet, and among both the civilized and savage Indians of Eastern Ecuador.

With the wide open doors and new opportunities confronting us at the close of the great world war, the Society is prayerfully concerned to send out the largest possible number of reinforcements in the near future. Prayer is requested for qualified and consecrated candidates. The especial need is for young men for the various fields.

PRESBYTERIAN, REFORMED (Convenanter)

Board of Foreign Missions, Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America

Secretary for Correspondence as to Missionaries and Recruits: Rev. Findley M. Wilson, D.D., 2517 North Franklin Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

This Board conducts missions in Asia Minor, Syria, Cyprus and South China. It receives applications from members of the Church it represents.

Persons qualified for any department of missionary service are invited to open correspondence, or seek a personal interview.

Owing to unsettled conditions in the Levant and the impossibility of laying out an adequate program before this Bulletin goes to press, and owing to the fact that radical changes are immediately in contemplation in our field in South China, no specific call for workers can be issued this year.

This much, however, can be said: We shall soon need for Asia Minor and Syria physicians, nurses, teachers, ordained men. There is immediate need for a short-term teacher for the Boys' Academy in Cyprus; there is need in South China for a man physician and a trained man teacher. Other departments will require recruiting within the year.

REFORMED CHURCH IN AMERICA

Board of Foreign Missions Reformed Church in America

Secretaries for Candidate Correspondence: (for men) Mr. F. M. Potter, (for women) Mrs. H. J. Scudder, 25 East 22nd Street, New York City

Below are given some of the most immediate needs for 1920. Our Church is now, however, engaged in a five-year Progress Campaign and we have definitely in mind many other positions in the foreign field which we shall need to fill within the next few years. Many of the appointments for 1920 have already been made and we hope that those who are interested in the possibility of foreign service will correspond with us so that we may ascertain whether, even if there should be no vacancy for 1920, the time might not be profitably used in preparation and the candidate go out to the field later. For the five years of our Campaign we are planning to send out fifty-five recruits in addition to appointments which may be made to fill vacancies created on the field.

Domestic, Frontier and Foreign Missionary Society of the United Brethren in Christ

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. J. Howe,
U. B. Mission Room, Huntington, Indiana

Probably no additional candidates will be needed for 1920.

MISCELLANEOUS

American Bible Society

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. Wm. I. Haven, D.D.,
Bible House, Astor Place, New York City

The American Bible Society needs from time to time suitable men for its Home and Foreign Staff.

American College for Girls at Constantinople

Candidate Correspondence should be addressed to: Miss S. H. Olmstead,
70 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Probably no additional candidates will be needed for 1920.

Canton Christian College, Canton, China

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mr. W. Henry Grant,
156 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Educational

Several unmarried men to teach English and other subjects in the Secondary School, three to five-year terms. It is desirable that some of these candidates, at least, should qualify as leaders in athletics.

A woman to teach in the School for Western Children and to have charge of the grades including children of seven years and over. This school having opened in the fall of 1919 still has a small enrollment and there is much to be done in organization as well as in teaching.

Canton Medical Missionary Union, Canton, China

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: J. Oscar Thomson, M.D., C.M., F.A.C.S.
Canton Hospital, Canton, China

The Canton Hospital, conducted by the Canton Medical Missionary Union, is an interdenominational organization. It solicits correspondence from physicians or nurses.
It expects to be able to call during the next twelve months the following:

Medical

One pathologist.
One Roentgenologist.

One physiologist.
Several nurses.

FOREIGN MISSION CALLS

Ceylon and India General Mission, American Council

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mr. David MacNaughton,
117 North Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois

Evangelistic

Two missionaries, Panadure, Ceylon.
Two missionaries for the Tamil field,
Gobichettipalyam, India.
Two missionaries for the Tamil field,
Satyamangalam, India.

Six missionaries for the Telugu field,
(Madakasira, Penukonda, Talamarla),
India.

One missionary for the Telugu field,
Kalyandrug, India.

China Inland Mission

Applications should be sent to: China Inland Mission, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, or Toronto, Ontario

This Mission is international. It receives applications from suitable persons, whether ordained men, laymen, physicians, laywomen, nurses, or teachers, without any restrictions as to number. Those persons will be accepted who commend themselves to the Mission, and they will be sent to China as speedily as prayer for necessary funds is answered.

The missionaries land at Shanghai and they are then sent to the Training Homes at Nanking and Yangchow, where they spend a winter in studying the language and in learning the customs of the Chinese. Afterwards the missionaries are designated to their stations in the interior. As the Mission is in fifteen provinces, has 241 stations and an additional 1,474 out-stations, a wide field is before its workers. The work is carried on by 1,057 missionaries and 3,575 paid and unpaid native helpers, not only amongst the Chinese, but also amongst the Tibetans and the aboriginal tribes. There is much settled work now being done, but there is still great need for itinerant work. Over 1,500 walled cities have no resident missionaries. Tens of thousands of towns and villages have no center of Gospel light, and great reaches of country districts have never heard the voice of a preacher.

There is special need of well-trained medical workers and nurses.

Fukien Christian University, Foochow, China

Candidate Correspondence should be addressed to: President Edwin C. Jones,
Room 500, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York City

(Fukien Christian University is an institution in which four denominations unite.)

Educational

In each of the following cases the preference is for a married man who has had teaching experience and has one or more advanced degrees, or, in the case of the sciences, practical experience in the industries.

It is also earnestly desired to correspond with college teachers of any subject soon to have Sabbatical leave of absence with a view to their teaching in Fukien Christian University for one or two semesters.

One man for education.

One man for organic chemistry, with experience in applying chemistry to paper making or tanning or rubber manufacture, etc.

One man for botany, with a background of agricultural study or experience.

One man for physics with an engineering background, mechanical, civil or electrical.

One man for mathematics, preferably with a background of engineering study.

One man for English literature.

Mission to Lepers

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mr. W. M. Danner,
Room 1118, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City

This Mission exists solely for the benefit of lepers and their children. Its fourfold objective is to preach the Gospel to the lepers, to relieve their dreadful sufferings, to supply their simple wants, to rid the world of leprosy. It works in cooperation with all the leading Foreign Mission Societies of Europe and America. The missionaries of these Societies furnish the supervision. The Mission to Lepers furnishes buildings, lands and current expenses.

FOREIGN MISSION CALLS

Unprecedented growth now calls for trained representatives to cooperate with missionaries and to hold strategic centres.

Correspondence is invited concerning important posts for consecrated volunteers, both men and women, who would be willing to take a share in "ridding the world of leprosy."

General

Chaplains of Leper Colonies

Medical

tions in China.

One married physician for work in Tungchangfu, China.

Peking University, Peking, China

Correspondence should be addressed to: Dr. Eric M. North, Secretary of the Board of Trustees, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Representatives of the University in America during 1920: Henry W. Luce, Vice-President, and W. Reginald Wheeler, Secretary, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

The present Peking University is an interdenominational and international institution, incorporated under the laws of the State of New York and built up upon a union of the former Peking University and of the North China College. Three denominations from America, Northern Methodist, Northern Presbyterian and Congregational; one from England, the London Missionary Society; and the constituency in China are united in its support. The following departments of the University are being developed: College of Arts and Sciences, School of Religion, School of Education, School of Journalism, and School of Forestry and Agriculture. Plans are also under way for affiliation with the Peking Women's College.

In general, it is desired that a prospective member of the faculty should have graduate as well as under-graduate preparation in his subject. Professors who desire to spend a sabbatical year abroad and are interested in the Far East would be especially welcome.

The definite needs of the faculty for the next two years are given below.

Educational

Two professors of English.
One professor of Biology.
One professor of Physics.
One professor of French and German.

South Africa General Mission

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. William H. Hendrickson,
32 Court Street, Brooklyn, New York City

The South Africa General Mission proposed to occupy a large unevangelized field in Angola, Portuguese West Africa, and make it a memorial to the late Dr. Andrew Murray. For this work forty missionaries are needed.

General

Several married men for Angola,
Two married men for new stations east of Nyasaland in Portuguese East Africa.
Two married men for new stations east of Southern Rhodesia in Portuguese East Africa.

One married man to work among Mohammedans, in Natal and Southern Coast.
One man to work among the Indians, in Natal and Southern Coast.

Educational

Several teachers for Angola.
One young man to supervise school work at various out-stations and for evangelistic work in the Dumisa Mission Station, Natal.

Medical

Three qualified doctors, at least, for Angola.
Several trained nurses for Angola.

Industrial

A number of industrial workers for Angola.
One man for industrial work east of Nyasaland, in Portuguese East Africa.
One man for industrial work in the Dumisa Mission Station, Natal.

Sudan United Mission

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Dr. H. K. W. Kumm, Summit, New Jersey

The present spheres of the mission are the district east of the Niger River in Northern Nigeria, seven to ten degrees north latitude, fifteen stations, and the Dinka and Nuba Tribes of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. The objective is a chain of mission centers from the Niger to the Nile.

The country, now under British rule, is yet largely undeveloped. Travel is by rail, river, steamer, or forest paths.

The occupation of two new districts in Northern Nigeria, urged by the Field Committee of the Sudan United Mission, will necessitate the sending out of at least one new unit. Such a unit should consist of an ordained man, a medical man, an educationalist, and an engineer.

General

Two unmarried ordained men who have had experience in teaching, Northern Nigeria.

Medical

One man, a Johns Hopkins graduate, Northern Nigeria.

Educational

Two men, College professors for work at the seminary in Wukari, Northern Nigeria.

Industrial

An engineer, Northern Nigeria.

Two nurses with experience in surgical and general work.

Woman's Union Missionary Society of America

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mrs. F. H. Marston,
Mission Room, 67 Bible House, New York City

Missionaries must be unmarried women who know Jesus Christ as their own personal Saviour and are sure He is the greatest need of the world today. They must be strong in body, willing to bear hardships, have no one depending upon them for financial support, and be ready to make this a life work if health permits.

A personal interview with candidates is necessary before appointment. The Society has a representative in St. Louis, and though no money is available to bring applicants there or to the office in New York, it is hoped that young women who can offer themselves for this service will make it possible to come to one or the other city for an interview.

General and Educational

One woman as assistant in a Bible Woman's Training School and for evangelistic work, Yokohama, Japan.

One woman to teach in Doremus High School for Girls, Yokohama, Japan.

One woman for primary, intermediate, and normal courses, Bridgman School, Shanghai, China.

Yale Foreign Missionary Society

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mr. A. P. Wilder,
5 White Hall, New Haven, Connecticut

The work of this Society is at present as fully staffed as finances will permit. The Secretary will be glad, however, to correspond with anyone interested.
A Yale degree is not imperative for these candidates.

Foreign Department of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the U. S. A.

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mrs. Katherine Willard Eddy,
600 Lexington Avenue, New York City

During the year 1920 the Young Women's Christian Association will need fifty-four secretaries—general secretaries, physical directors, industrial workers, student secretaries. Those going to South America, Japan and India must have had Association experience in this country. A few are being sent to China without experience with the thought of getting the language and returning to this country for training. All secretaries are expected to get the languages of the countries to which they are sent.

Association Secretaries

20 Women, China.
14 Women, Japan.
10 Women, India.
10 Women, South America.

International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mr. Wilbert B. Smith, Room 1007, 347 Madison Avenue, New York City

The foreign work of the Young Men's Christian Association calls for men who have the usual requirements for missionary service, such as sound Christian character, liberal education, physical fitness for life in foreign countries where conditions are often trying, proven capacity to work in cooperation with others, loyalty to the Christian Church.

In addition to these general fundamental qualifications, secretaries sent to foreign posts are expected to have had such training and experience in the North American Association Movement as will qualify them for work in pioneer fields or in cooperation with the rapidly developing indigenous Movements of the Orient and Latin America.

The work calls for experts in general Association administration and supervision, as well as for specialists in various departments such as Religious, Educational, Boys, Physical, Business and Industrial.

Representatives of the Foreign Department are now at work in Japan, China, India, Egypt, the Near East, Mexico, Latin America and the Philippine Islands.

HOME MISSION CALLS

CONGREGATIONAL

American Missionary Association

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. George L. Cady, D.D.,
287 Fourth Avenue, New York City

This Society is engaged in "missions at home" among the unprivileged people of our own land. Its fields include the Southern States, Porto Rico, the Mexican populations of the Southwest, the Indian Reservations of the Northwest, Alaska, the Orientals of the Pacific Coast and Hawaii. Each of these fields has its distinctive racial characteristics, demanding specialization in method of missionary service, while in all fields and with all races the service rendered takes the twofold form of education and evangelization.

An analysis of the teaching force at work last year was as follows:

Presidents and Principals.....	56	Physical Education instructors.....	2
Professors (college and professional departments) .....	46	Commercial instructors .....	3
High School instructors .....	147	Matrons, preceptresses .....	61
Elementary teachers .....	115	Treasurers and clerks .....	22
Girls' Industries instructors .....	39	Librarians .....	6
Boys' Industries instructors .....	24	Nurses .....	2
Agricultural instructors .....	11	Superintendents of buildings and grounds .....	1
Music instructors .....	42	Extension and community workers..	10
Manual Arts instructors .....	3

Some reinforcements will have to be added for next year, probably in both evangelistic and educational positions. The immediate needs are in various schools:

Educational

One assistant principal, with manual training.
Two instructors in manual training.
Five English teachers.
Two teachers of history and Latin.
Two teachers of pedagogy.
One science teacher.

Six teachers of household arts.
Three music teachers.

Agricultural

Two school farmers.

Housemother

One housemother.

Congregational Home Missionary Society

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. Frank L. Moore,
287 Fourth Avenue, New York City

This Society has done a continuous work in the United States since its formal organization as a national body in 1826. It is going forward on the conviction that we must save America to save the world; that the battle of civilization is being fought within our own borders. Its program, therefore, includes ministry to neglected portions of our land, among the native-born as well as among various groups of foreigners. It has missions among more than a score of races, and is studying how best to combine the spiritual appeal with a program of thorough-going and sympathetic Americanization.

There are calls for specialists who can deal with intricate problems in industrial centers, mining camps, mill towns, and among a score of racial groups. Increasing calls are being made for pastors' assistants, educational directors, and leaders of community churches in both city and country. The emphasis upon a trained ministry is more insistent than ever.

DISCIPLES (CHRISTIAN)

American Christian Missionary Society

Candidate Correspondence should be addressed to: Pres. F. W. Burnham, Carew Building, Cincinnati, Ohio

This Society is engaged in the various forms of Home Missionary service in North America. It conducts work in all the pioneer fields, having contract relations with the several State and Provincial Boards. It conducts work among immigrants in several of our great industrial centers and has an entire department devoted to Bible school promotion.

HOME MISSION CALLS

Ministerial

One hundred missionary pastors for city and rural fields in all parts of the land are needed. These should be college trained men.

Six missionary pastors are needed for Western Canada.

Two missionary pastors are needed for Alaska.

Immigrant Service

Two high grade American leaders for superintendents of immigrant work.

Miscellaneous

State and regional representatives are employed from time to time, as well as trained young men as experts in Bible school supervision.

EPISCOPAL

Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mr. John W. Wood, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City

General

Three clergymen for work in Alaska among the white people of the coast and Indians of the interior.

Eleven women for evangelistic work in Alaska among the white people of the coast and Indians of the interior.

Medical

Two physicians, Alaska.

Three nurses, Alaska.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mrs. May Leonard Woodruff, Allendale, New Jersey

Educational

Young women are needed as teachers of cooking, sewing, physical culture, music, primary and grade school work and high school subjects, as well as Bible teachers, in schools in the United States, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Alaska.

Superintendents and workers in Industrial Homes and Schools are also needed among Orientals, mountaineers, Indians, Negroes, and Spanish-speaking people.

Settlement Workers

Neighborhood visitors, teachers of English to foreigners, Bible teachers, and other settlement activities.

Field Workers

To travel among the churches of a certain field and tell of conditions and needs.

Medical

Nurses and nurse-deaconesses are needed in hospitals and dispensaries and as district workers in immigrant communities.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL, SOUTH

Department of Home Missions, Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Mrs. H. R. Steele, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tennessee

There is urgent need in the Home Department of the Woman's Missionary Council for a larger number of workers.

Two hundred well prepared young women are needed for service in settlement homes, in mill communities and in mining camps, and for work among the foreign speaking people on the Gulf of Mexico, in Texas and on the Pacific Coast.

HOME MISSION CALLS

Medical

Forty trained nurses for District Work.

Educational

Twenty-five kindergartners for English, Spanish, and Italian communities.

Thirty-five teachers of English, Domestic Science, and Industrial classes in Settlement Work.

Two principals for Negro farm schools.

PRESBYTERIAN (NORTH)

Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Candidate Correspondence should be addressed to: Rev. E. Fred Eastman,
150 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Church and Country Life Work

Ministerial

Twenty-two ordained men, of whom thirteen are needed in the South and the West, and four in Pacific Coast States. These men should all be highly trained in fitness for service as community pastors in denomination parishes.

Educational

Five special teachers of industrial arts, of whom two ought to be teachers of agriculture, two of music and one for manual training (two of these five should be capable of administration).

Five women teachers for common schools. (They should be women of good Christian character and exceptional capacity, who would serve as teachers in schools of the region during the school period of four months).

Medical

Two physicians.
Three nurses.

Social Service

Five women for social work. (They should be young or middle aged women of devout Christian character, prepared to work in country communities as out-station leaders under the direction of a pastor, but living at a distance of five to ten miles from the pastor).

Carpenter

One carpenter.

Farmer

One farmer.

City and Immigrant Work

General and Educational

One associate director, with particular reference to educational work, for San Francisco.

One director for educational-social work in a coal mining community in Kansas.

One pastor-director for a chapel and neighborhood work in an immigrant community in Yonkers, New York.

Several men and women may be needed for a new development in a lead and zinc mining region in Oklahoma.

One director may be needed for industrial parish work in a mining region in West Virginia, now under survey.

One director-pastor and one assistant for educational work in Montana, now under survey.

One director for a social, religious and educational work in a Jewish community in Philadelphia.

Community work

Two women community workers, trained in social-educational work, for San Francisco.

One woman community worker for a district parish in Michigan.

One woman community worker for chapel and neighborhood work in an immigrant community in Yonkers, New York.

Several women community workers may be needed for an industrial parish work in a mining region in West Virginia, now under survey.

One woman community worker for a field now under survey in Montana.

HOME MISSION CALLS

Work in the West

Ministerial

Fifty ordained men for work in the far West and South.

This is pioneer work among scattered populations, for the most part, and embraces the building up of young churches which have not yet attained to self support. Many of the men who are placed in these churches and assisted by the Board are able to so organize the work as to bring the churches to self support, continuing as pastor of the self-supporting church or removing from it to undertake a similar enterprise in some more needy field.

American Indian Work

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. Thomas C. Moffett, D.D., 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City

General

Several missionaries, New Mexico, Utah and other Western States. (Indian missions call for consecrated missionaries, preferably married men, ready for permanent work or extended service to long neglected Indian populations. Climate excellent. Fields distant from railroad and without white school privileges, but in settled communities of Indians and government workers.)

Medical

A medical missionary, capable of undertaking surgical cases and superintending a hospital on the Navajo Reservation, thirty miles west of Government Agency and Boarding School at Shiprock, New Mexico. Will be provided with Indian helper and hospital force, trained nurse, etc. This is a great opportunity for a physician with missionary spirit.

Trained nurse and Housekeeper, Arizona. (For a hospital and for dispensary work. A great opportunity for permanent service is here presented in the midst of pagan conditions. The Navajos are one of the most sturdy and superior Indian tribes of America.)

Woman's Board of Home Missions, Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

Candidate Correspondence should be addressed to: Mr. M. C. Allaben, Superintendent of Schools, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City

The School Department will be glad to receive applications from young women who desire work either as teachers, matrons, nurses, or community workers in the home field. The field covered includes the Alaskans, the Indians, the Mexicans, the Mormons, the Southern Mountaineers, Cubans, and Porto Ricans. The need of consecrated workers in the home field, workers whose consecration has been attested by a thorough training and a careful preparation for Christian social service, is very pressing. The call is for the best. Young men and young women of exceptional talent will find exceptional opportunities.

Our schools range in grade from kindergartens and day schools to the higher institutions for academic, pedagogical, and industrial training. The object of all the work is community uplift through the development of Christian leadership. Neighborhood work is also being instituted in various localities, both urban and rural, and for this undertaking candidates of a high order of merit are being sought.

Medical

Two interns, San Juan, Porto Rico. (Unmarried graduates of first-class medical school are required. Will be needed on July 1st.)

HOME MISSION CALLS

PRESBYTERIAN (SOUTH)

Executive Committee of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States

Secretary for Candidate Correspondence: Rev. S. L. Morris, D.D., 1522 Hurt Building, Atlanta, Georgia

Evangelistic

Consecrated ministers for the frontier in Oklahoma and Texas, and for the neglected sections of the Appalachian Mountains.

Qualifications: Earnestness, common sense, social qualities which will enable them to adapt themselves to the needs and peculiarities of the people, willingness to endure hardship, persistence enough to stick to the work in spite of difficulties and discouragements, men who from love to Christ and love for souls are willing to turn their backs on all inducements to resign for the sake of better positions and easier work.

An ordained married man for Indian work in Oklahoma.

(Much time will be given to supplying the churches of white people. An earnest, efficient minister, who will enter upon this as a life work, is desired.)

Educational

Teachers, both men and women, for our mountain mission schools, with ability to instruct but having chiefly the missionary spirit of Christ, who teach for the sake of winning and moulding their pupils in righteousness for Christ and the Kingdom.

---

[The following list was received too late to be placed in proper alphabetical order among calls from the Foreign Field or to have any mention in the Summaries or Index, but we are glad to insert the facts as given.]

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Candidate Correspondence should be addressed to: Personnel Committee, Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City.

About one hundred relief workers are being sought to take the places of those whose terms will expire in March.

Workers are required for orphanages, automobile transportation, general relief distribution and management of industrial plants.

Men and women to qualify for this work should have had training and experience that would give them sound judgment and executive ability. They should be adaptable and, above all, have a desire to be of service. Term of contract at least one year. The age limit is from twenty-five to forty years.
